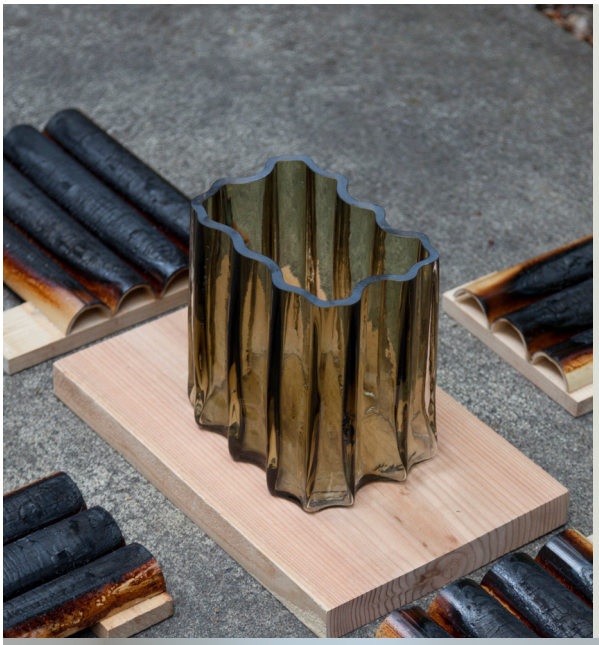
The Brussels gallery Spazio Nobile is opening a group show including works by 10 artists and designers who reflect on the complex interactions between human and planet. The exhibition marks the fifth anniversary of the gallery, known for curating dialogues between contemporary applied arts, design, and photography through mixed media by emerging artists.

The multi-disciplinary exhibition showcases glass creations alongside ceramics, wood sculptures, tapestries, photographs and pastel paintings on paper. The richness of organic matter is formulated as a baseline for artistic experimentation. The works by the ten artists are speculative and analytical, translating forces of the modern world.

The exhibition features work by: Jörg Bräuer, Nathalie Campion, Lila Farget, Ernst Gamperl, Kaspar Hamacher, Amy Hilton, Samy Rio, Bela Silva, Jacqueline Surdell & Philipp Weber.


The exhibition “Threads of Nature” runs from March 18 to July 18 2021 at Spazio Nobile in Brussels.
