Season XXXII – Vincent Fournier Flora Incognita, Solo Show

In Flora Incognita, Vincent Fournier imagines what the Earth's flora might look like if it grew on other planets. Like a herbarium, his photographs extrapolate new forms of plant life capable of adapting to extreme phenomena. The dialogue between the terrestrial and the extraterrestrial echoes today in the metamorphoses of the living world. Like a garden of delights — a reference to the famous painting by the Flemish Primitive Hieronymus Bosch — Fournier pays homage to the first landscapes of mankind, mixing belief, reality and utopia.
