In conversation with Kaspar Hamacher
Mercur: Alchemy of Wood and Light

Spazio Nobile presents Quentin Vuong's latest body of commissioned Mercur mirrors, crafted from blackened and chiseled beech, white gold leaf, and palladium alloy. In conversation with Kaspar Hamacher, whose sculptural forms and collectible furniture arise from the elemental forces of fire and earth, Vuong's wall pieces delve into the psyche of material transformation. Between opacity and brilliance, ritual and function, each work becomes a passage between worlds. Together, the two artists sculpt wood and light, between matter and reflection.
