Panoramic, 15 Years of Art Photography
A Second Chapter

Panoramic is both a title and a lens—a way of seeing that gently widens the horizon of perception. This Second Chapter of Panoramic presents fifteen years of work by Belgian photographer Frederik Vercruyse. New, unique overpainted prints are introduced in dialogue with earlier works, revealing a practice shaped by architecture, abstraction, and the quiet resonance of silence and space

Panoramic, 15 Years of Art Photography A Second Chapter

Panoramic pays homage to the precision and quiet strength of Frederik Vercruyssse's gaze, within a space that is usually understated but temporarily transformed into a place for reflection and vision. Panoramic is both a title and a mental attitude — a way of seeing that transcends the instant, capturing space, time, and atmosphere in a single contemplative gesture. This retrospective, celebrating fifteen years of artistic photography, embodies a sensibility that is both precise and poetic, minimalist yet layered, rooted in architectural rigor and suffused with soft, subtly modulated light. In the field of contemporary art, the panoramic is not merely a format — it is a philosophy. It embraces the totality of a moment, offering a broad perspective enriched by continuity and emotional depth. Vercruyssse's work exists in the in-between: between design and reverie, structure and silence. It distills reality into visual compositions that celebrate the quiet beauty of both natural and built environments. In this sense, photography becomes an act of illumination — revealing what often escapes the eye. Vercruyssse's lens does not merely capture buildings or interiors; it seizes atmospheres — coastal light, fleeting shadows, and surfaces gently marked by time. Text by Lise Coirier

Frederik Vercruyse (BE) Photographer

Frederik Vercruyse is a celebrated Belgian photographer renowned for his minimalist, atmospheric visual style. Based in Antwerp, he has gained international recognition for his distinctive approach to still lifes, architecture, interiors and landscapes. His serene, meticulously composed images are noted for their clarity, balance and poetic restraint.

Vercruyse broadly defines his work as still life photography, whether he is capturing spaces, objects or natural environments. Regardless of the subject, his aim remains consistent: to reveal things in their purest, most essential form. His photographs are characterised by a refined visual order, muted colour palettes and thoughtful interplay of light and shadow. "I work in a really controlled way," he explains. "I weigh and balance until my image finds its equilibrium." This guiding principle informs both his personal and commercial work, blurring the boundaries between fine art and applied photography.

Although he was initially drawn to a career in architecture, Vercruyse soon realised that his true passion lay not in designing buildings, but but in capturing their emotional and spatial essence through photography. For him, photography is a pure craft—an act of seeing rather than seeking. "You don't think of the most beautiful things," he says. "You have to dare to see them and be able to visualize them." His architectural sensibility runs deep, informing not only his choice of subject but also the structure, composition, and subtle modulation of light within his images. Photography becomes a way to translate atmosphere, silence, and tension into an immersive and deeply personal visual language. Photographing something he truly connects with gives him a profound sense of peace—offering a meditative state of mind where presence and perception merge.

His commercial portfolio includes collaborations with prestigious international clients such as Hermès, Delvaux, Molteni&C, Zara Home, Vincent Van Duysen, B&B Italia, Diptyque, Axel Vervoordt, Muller Van Severen, Raf Simons, and Tiffany & Co. His editorial work has been featured in publications including The New York Times, WSJ Magazine and Architectural Digest.

In 2016, Vercruyse published Index 2006–2016 (Luster), a ten-year retrospective of his photographic journey through the worlds of architecture, design, fashion and art. He is represented by ILA in the Benelux region and by Quadriga Management in Paris and New York. Since 2017, Spazio Nobile Gallery has exhibited and represented his fine art photography. His personal projects often explore themes of silence, time, materiality and transformation. Created during a residency at Villa Lena in Tuscany, Tempo Polveroso captures the otherworldly stillness of the region's marble quarries. Windows, exhibited at Spazio Nobile in 2021, examined the relationship between architecture, reflection, and human presence through layered compositions and digital interventions. Other notable works, such as the Atlantic Series and his 2017 collaboration with Belgian ceramicist Piet Stockmans within the gallery's duo exhibition, Blauw, Ceci n'est pas une couleur, further revealed his enduring interest in texture, mood, and spatial abstraction.

Over the past decades, Frederik Vercruyse has developed a photographic vision grounded in architectural sensitivity and minimalist aesthetics. His work, which is both documentary and artistic, has earned him an esteemed place on the international stage, with a style that bridges the worlds of design, fashion, media, and fine art.

Lise Coirier & Gian Giuseppe Simeone Co-Founders and Directors of Spazio Nobile

Lise Coirier (FR-BE) and Gian Giuseppe Simeone (IT-SE) are the co-founders and directors of Spazio Nobile Gallery (Brussels), established in 2016. Both art historians, they bring complementary backgrounds that bridge contemporary creation, cultural heritage, and international cooperation. French-born Lise Coirier has lived and worked in Brussels for three decades, dedicating her career to building bridges between art, design, and cultural discourse. As curator, publisher, and cultural entrepreneur, she is also the founder and editor-in-chief of TLmag – True Living of Art & Design, an annual print and digital magazine launched in 2008 that explores contemporary culture through the lens of art and culture. Alongside her curatorial work at Spazio Nobile, she has initiated and directed several European cultural projects, including Human Cities and Glass is Tomorrow, and has published widely on fine art and design, reinforcing her commitment to cultural mediation and knowledge production.

Gian Giuseppe Simeone, of Italian-Swedish origin and based in Brussels, is an art historian and archaeologist specialised in the valorisation of artistic and cultural heritage. His work has long focused on positioning culture as a driver of international dialogue and development. Through his consultancy, Culture Lab, he has designed and managed large-scale cultural cooperation projects, often funded by the European Union, that connect contemporary creation and cultural heritage across Europe, Africa, and the Mediterranean. He has contributed to major exhibitions, research programmes, and co-productions in the visual arts, music, theatre, and design, while also leading numerous studies and evaluations on the role of culture in fostering social and economic development. He is the author of several reference works on European and international cultural policy and heritage.

Together at Spazio Nobile, Coirier and Simeone curate and promote projects at the crossroads of contemporary fine art, applied arts, and design. Their vision is to highlight the poetics of materiality and the cultural resonance of artistic practices, fostering dialogue between artists, audiences, and institutions on both local and international levels.

Often referred to as the 'rock star of the auction world,' he is celebrated for his passionate advocacy of contemporary art and design. Formerly Chairman and Chief Auctioneer of Phillips de Pury & Company, he has played a pivotal role in shaping international collecting trends through his visionary curation, sharp eye for emerging talent, and energetic public presence. As Guest Editor of TLmag 41 - The Art of Collecting / Collecting Art, Simon de Pury brings his unique insight into the emotional, cultural, and aesthetic dimensions of collecting across disciplines.

"Collecting is one of the earliest instincts we are born with. As a young boy, I was obsessed with collecting miniature cars. My youngest daughter, now a teenager, has gone through several such phases. From the age of 6 to 10, she collected dolls – mostly Barbies. During Covid, she started buying digital clothes for the avatar she played with in the online game Roblox. This led the way to the acquisition of crystals and exotic stones, which began to accumulate rapidly. As we approach adulthood, this urge to collect can often diminish or disappear. However, it only takes one step for it to be rekindled and for us to succumb forever to the most beautiful but totally incurable disease. I discovered my passion for art as a teenager. In my early twenties I was overjoyed to be able to work for Sotheby's and be surrounded by art on a daily basis. It was in my mid-30s that I felt the urge to buy a work by the Russian artist Erik Bulatov. It cost 35,000 Swiss francs and I had no idea how I was going to pay for it. I was on a very modest salary at Sotheby's and I already had four children. Fortunately, their mother was very understanding and we managed to pay the bill in instalments. I was hooked and from that moment on I put every penny I ever had into art."

Spazio Nobile is a contemporary art and design gallery in Brussels, Belgium, known for its bold exhibitions and commitment to promoting innovative, boundary-pushing work. The gallery presents a range of emerging and established artists and designers from around the world, providing a platform for experimental practices and new creative directions in both fine art and collectable design. When art historians Lise Coirier and Gian Giuseppe Simeone founded Spazio Nobile in 2016, they combined their passions for design and art history to establish a fruitful dialogue with applied art, design and photography. Without boundaries between disciplines, they have created a collection of unique art and design pieces, limited editions and installations, with a particular sensitivity to nature and minerality. The gallery also publishes TLmag True Living of Art & Design, launched in 2008, an annual international print and online magazine dedicated to curating and capturing the culture of collecting. TLmag has evolved over 15 years with creative influencers, collectors, curators, artists, designers and architects who have shaped the contemporary art and design scene. The magazine and artist monographs are published by Spazio Nobile Editions. Spazio Nobile Studiolo, a permanent showcase in front of the main gallery, has been curated by the gallery since 2020. The co-founders have also extended the gallery experience to their private villa in Tervuren, on the outskirts of Brussels, with Spazio Nobile At Home, and in Sweden, at The 25 Columns, built by OFFICE Kersten Geers David Van Severen, overlooking Lake Siljan from the heights of Plintsberg, Dalarna.
